NEW WAVE OF REVIVAL A CHAPTER IN EVERY NATION

The last Great Revival in the whole world will lead to the last Great Harvest before Jesus Christ returns. The Holy Spirit, our helper and guide gives us the assurance

Let us march on to establish chapters in every nation of the world. The Lamb that was slain will give us all the nations of the world. Onward, Christian soldiers marching as to war is our clarion call. It can be done.

This theme is anchored on the scripture Psalm 2:8 stated above. The vision God showed our founder Demos Shakarian was of all the continents of the world and by extension nations.

In his book 'The Vision Intensified' Demos talks about the revelation God showed him of 'A New Wave of Revival' that is about to explode in the body of Christ.

This Fellowship has there fore embarked on a mission to establish at least one chapter in every nation of the world to help spark this revival in the body of Christ.

Our minds as a people of God need to be renewed to the mentality of a people who live in heaven but work on earth because we are seated together in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus. Jesus says we will do even greater works because he was going back to the Father. As we meet in Honduras soon, let us expect to receive what the Lord has prepared for us to accomplish the task in the nations.

Let us GO!

LET US PRAY TO THE LORD
OF THE HARVEST TO SEND MORE WORKERS INTO HIS HARVEST.

A few years ago, the leaders of the Fellowship at international level were pleased to set up a youth coordination by continent. The coordination is attached to the International Office by a Youth Coordinator appointed by the International President and is thus part of the expanded international office.

While operating in perfect collaboration with the Asian and Latin American youth coordinations, the African youth coordination is pursuing the vision of unifying and standardizing all existing youth structures in African nations with the FGBMFI in their midst. Furthermore, it aims to conquer new nations by winning souls and establishing new chapters according to the objective "a chapter in each nation".

Lydia & Erick DIAKUBUKWA
African youth coordinator

This vision should result in having a Christian youth, essentially composed of lay people, loving GOD more than anything and passionate about winning souls in each African nation.

I would like to remind you that youth represents the next generation and the future in all areas at whatsoever level of each nation. It goes without saying that a great responsibility rests on us (youth) because the future is in our hands.

Thus, GOD asks us a question individually and collectively: "Young, will you be wise or foolish while I have put the destiny and future of peoples and nations in your hands?" Through the African Youth Festival ("AYF"), dear young people, we still have the opportunity, on the one hand, to align our steps and hearts with the vision and mission that GOD has given us and, on the other hand, to get involved in GOD's great project for the UNITY and DEVELOPMENT of African nations which will lead to the impact of the world through Africa.

After the 1st edition of the AYF "One direction" and the 2nd "Beyond the limits", GOD is taking us through this 3rd edition in "A new wave of revival", with a view to touching and impacting the world.

I would therefore encourage every young person, whether far from or close to this activity, to seize the new wave of revival because it will probably be said, as in Acts 17:6, "They came from Africa, the people who turned the world upside down." I would remind you that we are at a high point of Africa's joint action to turn the world upside down...

Abundant blessings.

YES, IT IS AFRICA'S TIME, AFRICA'S TIME TO IMPACT THE WORLD!!!

The African Youth Festival was initiated by Richard Shakarian, second international president of FGBMFI, with the aim of bringing together young people in the community for learning, communion and encouragement. For this third edition, which God gives us the grace to lead, the organizing committee has set the following specific objectives:

- Promote the unity of African youth
- Promote empowerment
- Equip leaders with skills and inspire a renewal in the African elite
- Strengthen the presence of FGBMFI in Ethiopia, by creating three new chapters: a classic chapter and two chapters for young professionals

The first edition of the African Youth Festival was held in Ghana from June 22 to 24, 2018, bringing together approximately 600 delegates from around the world, including Costa Rica, Honduras, Germany, Burkina Faso, Togo, Benin, Nigeria, Gabon, the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC), Ivory Coast, Kenya and Ghana.

The second edition took place in Kinshasa, DRC, from August 20 to 23, 2019, with the participation of 300 delegates from various countries, including Honduras, Cameroon, Rwanda, Gabon and Kenya

The third edition will be held from August 21 to 25, 2024 in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, under the theme “A New Wave of Revival”. The event will take place at the African Union Conference Hall and the Ethiopian Skylight Hotel.

Welcome and may through the power of the Holy Spirit, you experience a new wave of revival in your life.

TESTIMONY OF FERISE MABIALA

Hello, I am Math Ferise MABIALA, member of the community in Congo Brazza FGBMFI, I am an Oil Operator.

Before meeting JESUS-CHRIST I was a hip-hop dancer, I did break dancing. I started being on the podium when I was twelve (12 years old). This life as an artist led me into sexual wantonness, so that at the age of fifteen (15) I was leading a very active sexual life with several girlfriends.

My parents advised me to leave dancing, but I couldn't. It was stronger than me!

However, despite the delinquency, I was very studious, I was among the best students but in high school I began to have academic failures, I failed the Baccalaureate twice in a row.

When I arrived at university, I again experienced several academic failures.

One day, I met a classmate, one of the smartest in the class. During a conversation I asked him how he manages to memorize the lessons well?

JESUS CHRIST enables me to do it, he replied. Some time later, my class friend invited me to a Christian church. I accepted his invitation, and I began to go there frequently every Sunday, three months later, I will give my life to the Lord Jesus Christ, Sometime March 4, 2018.

After accepting Jesus Christ my life completely changed. By the grace of God, since my baptism on May 12, 2018 until today I have led a life of holiness. I, who previously failed the exams, the same year 2018, I succeeded in a Chinese language competition, from which I benefited from a trip offered by the Chinese government.

In 2019, I was appointed by presidential decree as Youth Advisor.

After my studies, I got a job in a cement factory. In 2021, I learned about the FULL GOSPEL BUSINESS MENS FELLOWSHIP INTERNATIONAL through the invitation of a friend, I was impacted by the vision and mission of Full Gospel. By the grace of God, I began to share my testimony with young people, on public transport, on the football field, at work and everywhere. By the Power of the Holy Spirit, through my testimony hundreds of people have given their lives to the Lord.

Thanks to the teachings on the School of Vision, the Lord Jesus Christ healed several people through me. Some times later, I became President of the Dolisie-Gloire Chapter, By the grace of God, since October 2023 I have been working in an Oil Company, my financial life has become more stable than before. Since I accepted the Lord JESUS CHRIST into my life as my Lord and my Savior, God is working wonders in my life. By the grace of God, he gave me a charming fiancée Helena Loemba who will become my wife this month of August 2024.

TESTIMONY OF KENNEDY MUKENDI

My name is Kennedy MUKENDI, and I am a student in aviation. I come from a Christian family where my parents were already members of Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International (FGBMF) and served in their church.

During my childhood, I attended Sunday school. After primary school, I unfortunately fell under the influence of bad company which altered my behavior, even though at that time, I appeared as an exemplary child at home. In turn, I led many friends into a lifestyle marked by hypocrisy, where lying became second nature, despite my regular presence at church.

At the end of 2008, my baby sister, just a few months old, tragically passed away. This ordeal led me to question God's love to whom my parents were so devoted. This doubt led to my gradual drifting away from Christian values.

It was in this state of rebellion against God that I agreed to attend a public meeting organized by a youth chapter of the International Full Gospel Business Men's Community. During this meeting, I was deeply moved by a poignant testimony that shook my certainties.

Through this testimony, I was reassured of God's unconditional love for me. Thus, on March 29, 2015, at 6 p.m., I answered God's call and gave my life to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Since then, the Lord Jesus Christ has brought a radical transformation into my life.

He has restored me and delivered me from the passions of youth, hypocrisy, and lying. Today, I can confidently affirm that God loves my family and showers them with abundant blessings.

TESTIMONY OF Germaine-Linda

knowing God personally

I'm Germaine-Linda, I am a born again Christian and I Love JESUS-CHRIST. I'm a Social worker and currently pursuing a master's degree in Psychology, I'm a member of FGBMFI.

I'm a first born in a family of 6, I was born in a Christian family and going to Church every Sunday was mandatory unless you are very sick, I find myself serving in church because my friends were also serving and I wanted to be close to them. There are times when I just wanted to go out, but I have to find a reason to be permitted and I could just find an excuse saying I was going to church.

For years I was just a church Goer but I didn't have a personal relationship with God, I didn't know God for myself. And the life I was living was not of a true Christian because I called myself Christian but I was a very difficult child, insulting people anyhow and living a life that was not pleasant to God, I was living a double life.

I knew that the life I was living was not good, I then rededicated my life to Christ in 2019, I wanted now to Know for myself and have a personal relationship with God. My life changed because now everything I do I have to ask God's approval and I no longer live for myself but he lives in, and I've realized that's the difference is CHRIST IN ME.

I've changed from the person I was then to the person I am now; I accept everyone as they are; I now acknowledge that JESUS is my EVERYTHING, my leader, my father, my lover, and my support system. there is no life outside Him.

Not everything in my life is what I want or desire, but I have learned to give everything to Jesus and let Him guide me, I live a very happy life because Jesus gives me joy and peace.

My name is MamiSewaa Amoakohene. I grew up in a Christian home. You can say that I grew up in Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship International due to my parents' involvement in the fellowship. But unbeknownst to them, their daughter had little or no understanding of the God they were serving. We went to church, but that was just part of our life. Read the Bible, which I love, but these were fascinating Bible stories.

Best description of my life was a state of confusion, despising being born a girl.

The apex of it was when I told my mom that the names of people going to hell, mine was right on the top and she should get used to it. But despite all this, God in his mercy reached out and saved me.

In the name of searching for meaning in life, I had moved away from my family to a new town where I had no support, no family, didn't even have work.

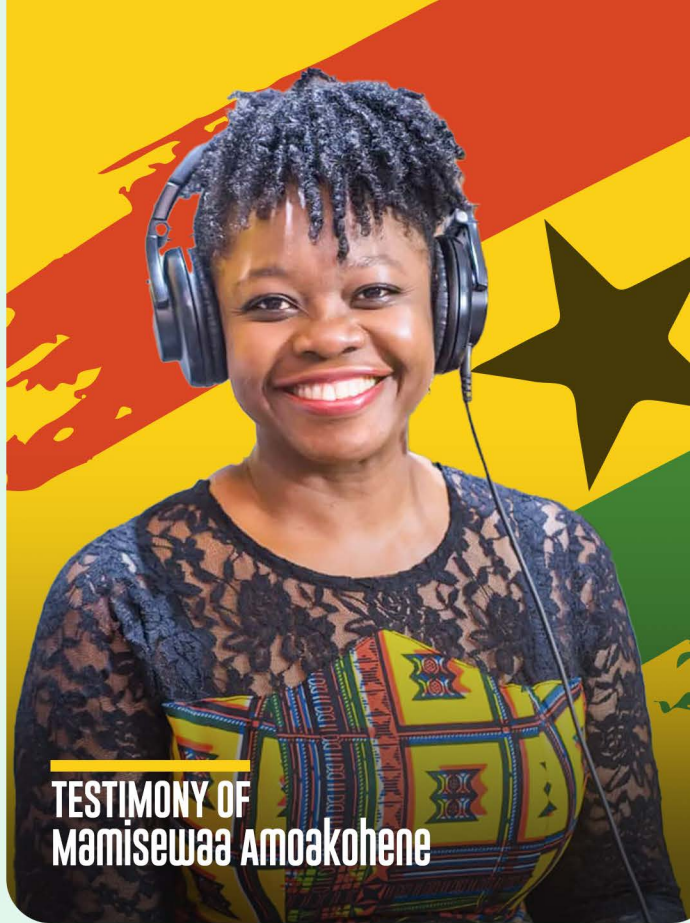

I just managed to get a place to live and had no way of taking care of it. It was in this state that I encountered God.

I found myself walking down a major freeway, wondering what I was doing and how I was going to make ends meet. In that moment, I heard within me, "You are going to be okay." And next, I felt a sense of peace sweep over me.

I knew instantly the only person that can do that is God. I decided to give my life to Christ, and that became the turning point in my life. I found a church soon after and not too long also got a job. Indeed, life begun to turnaround for me.

However, despite having to experience tragedies in my life, including the passing of my older brother, a year later; my mom, and recently in 2023 my younger brother. But through all these, God has renewed my faith.

I joined the fellowship on my own after returning to my home country, Ghana in 2015. It was through the fellowship that God healed me of all the grief I was experiencing.

TESTIMONY OF MAMISEWAA AMOAKOEHENE

God used all these challenges I went through to build a ministry called Finding the Person Called Me. Through this ministry, I've been able to help others on their journey to finding themselves in Christ.

This is the God that we serve, and if you don't know Him, I urge you to give your life to Him. If you are looking for a place to grow in your walk with God, then come and become a part of the fellowship and take and taste the joy of being part of the happiest people on earth. Thank you.

Hello, I am Emmanuel Dylan Tудie. FGBMFI member in the DRC since 2015. I was born into a Catholic Christian family of five children of which I am the second and only boy.

From a young age, we went to church, pray and serve but despite this I realized I had a bad influence from my friends, I did everything my friends asked me to do with them. Apart from that I had developed stealing money at home.

. Despite all this, one question kept coming back to me, I told myself that Jesus will come back, as we have always been taught, if he came back, would I go to heaven or not? Certainly times I told myself that maybe I should change churches to have good behavior.

I didn't know exactly where I was, yet I wanted to change but I didn't have enough capacity.

In August 2014 while we were going on vacation to a cousin's house and that night of a certain Saturday, they were going to talk to us about Jesus, telling us about the existence of hell and heaven, he said that if you don't have have not given your life to the Lord Jesus, you will not go to heaven, he had hammered home by saying that eternity with Jesus is not due to the fact that we follow a religion but it is firstly due to the fact that we believe in Jesus with all our hearts and follow His ways through the Holy Spirit He gives us.

And it is on this day that I will have the answer to my question that it was not a question of following a religion, but of following the person of Jesus.

So I will accept Jesus as Lord and Savior. By this act I will be disgusted by the influence of friends and the theft that I did other times at home.

I began to realize that males were not in my nature. Secular music, bad company, and all the other things I did that didn't please God.

I was a very influenced person, I was afraid to talk about it in public but after receiving Jesus, apart from the fact that Jesus changed me internally, he also made me a source of inspiration for many.

I have become a soul winner through my testimony and I have assurance of salvation.

I know that one day Jesus will return and I will go to heaven. I would like to tell everyone who reads this magazine that Jesus can transform the person you are. At first personally I didn't really believe in it but God has given me grace today to be a source of inspiration for many, for those around me.

God used me to speak to people, to heal, to deliver,... and all this, not because of my skills, but all this happened because one day, I had an encounter, not with the religion, but with the person of Jesus. From the thief that I was, Jesus Christ allowed me to develop integrity and several other values, there is happiness in knowing that we are at peace with God.

THANKS.

TESTIMONY OF Dilane TUDIE

Hello, I am Kakissingi Fazil Laurent, FGBMFI member in the Democratic Republic of Congo, husband and father of three children. I am the youngest of four children and at the age of two, it pleased God to call our father back to him.

This notion of paternity, of relying on a father, I have not known it. As we grew up, our mother taught us to go to school and go to church. These paths that we took allowed us to be able to complete my studies in a normal way and to obtain a job directly after finishing my university studies in law.

Two months after finishing my studies, I was hired in a bank in my city as a legal assistant. And this professional life opened up for me the path to nightclubs, drunkenness and everything that goes with it.

One day, one of my sisters-in-law, my brother's wife who came before me, seeing the life I led, approached me to be able to extend an invitation to me from this community in my city. Upon receiving the invitation, I asked her if there would be beer in this dinner, she told me no, I systematically rejected her invitation.

Despite my resistance, she never tired of extending invitations to me, and I refused for the same reasons.

One day my fiancée who today is my wife will extend an invitation to me again for this community, to please her, I will agree to go. As I listened to the testimonies, I realized that they were talking about my life, and they would say that it was Christ who allowed them to get out of this way of living. So I responded to the call to give my life to the Lord Jesus Christ.

After that, I started experiencing changes in my life. I no longer had the attraction to drinking, masturbation, nightclubs, pornography, and everything that goes with it. I was only attracted to spiritual, biblical things and I spent my time meditating on the Bible, the word of God.

Around me, my former colleagues with whom I spent time, on the terraces, in the clubs, were all surprised to see how much Jesus Christ changed my life.

One day during our wedding preparations, I will tell my wife that I envy those who still have their father alive, because they have the support of their father during these precious moments of life, she will tell me, you have a father, the God who created heaven and earth is your father.

When I got home and read my Bible, I came across the passage in John 1:12 which says, to as many as received it gave power to become children of God. And based on this passage, I turned to the Lord to say, father, I have received your son as Lord and Savior into my life. So you are my father.

From that day on, I saw God open financial doors for me, allowing me to properly organize my marriage and start my home. By giving his life to the Lord Jesus Christ, God becomes our father and he is a responsible father, I would like to speak to those who have lost their parents on earth, be sure that God is the best father that can exist, it He is a responsible father, trust in the Lord and he will take care of you and your family.

TESTIMONY OF Bénédicte MUNDELE KUVUNA

Hello everyone. My name is Bénédicte Mundele Kuvuna. I've been an entrepreneur for quite some time. So, how did I find myself in entrepreneurship? It all started as a class assignment where we were asked to create a menu for a restaurant.

As I worked on the menu, I remember trying to come up with a name for my restaurant. I found myself flipping through a recipe book and came across a recipe named "Surprise Tropicale." I decided that I would have a business called "Surprise Tropical." I even started making business cards that read, "Bénédicte Mundele Kuvuna, Founder of Surprise Tropical."

However, at that time, Surprise Tropical was just a figment of my imagination—it didn't exist yet. But I spoke about it as if it We have the power to bring into existence what does not exist through faith.

In 2014, I applied for an award called the Anzisha Prize. It was a prize for young entrepreneurs under the age of 22. At the time, I was under 22. I applied to this program and shared my idea, my project, what I had already started doing with Surprise Tropical. And by the grace of God, I was selected. I didn't even believe it at first; it was my father who sent me the link.

only 20 entrepreneurs from all over Africa would be selected. I just had an idea and was trying to work on small projects, little actions. But I couldn't imagine being selected.

I went to South Africa and spent two weeks where we were taught how to create a business plan. Those two weeks were very inspiring because we had to pitch our ideas. I saw how there were younger people than me, and people my age, who had successful businesses in their countries. I decided to seriously pursue my passion and curiosity. When I returned, I received a grant of $2,500, which allowed me to start taking my actions very seriously. I began making juices, chips, and chafou pastes. I was doing a lot of things. Even before I left, I was doing many things because the goal of Surprise Tropical was to promote all the fruits and vegetables we have in Congo.

When I returned, I continued doing what I was doing, and the advantage was that, by the grace of God, with this opportunity I had in South Africa, I gained international recognition. The Anzisha Prize is an international program known worldwide by many media outlets. I had the opportunity to be featured in an article in "How We Made It in Africa," and I was included in Forbes Africa, BBC, Jeune Afrique, etc This provided us with a significant media presence.

In 2015, while I was still in my first year at the Catholic University, I had an incredible opportunity. A university had read an article about me and contacted me because they wanted to start a program in food innovation. They needed international students for their program. I was almost done with my academic years when I came across this opportunity.

I hadn't applied or done anything to know about this program. The university contacted me, saying they had seen my article, noticed my passion in the food sector, and wanted to offer me a scholarship to do a master's in food innovation at their university. My initial response was no. Why? Because I hadn't finished my undergraduate degree. How could I start a master's program without finishing my undergraduate studies first? But they told me they'd arrange an interview with one of their directors. Their director was a professor at Oxford University. They told me if I passed the interview, I would be selected to start their master's program.

I thought it was inconceivable to start a master's without finishing my undergraduate degree. But I did the interview on Skype. My father encouraged me to go ahead. So, I did the interview on Skype, and by the grace of God, I was accepted. I was among the first students in the Food Innovation Program in Italy to do my master's. I did the interview on Monday, got accepted on Wednesday, received a call from the Italian embassy on Thursday, got my visa on Friday, and by Saturday, I had to pack my bags to go to Italy. Things moved so quickly that I didn't have time to tell the people around me.

Skype, and by the grace of God, I was accepted. I was among the first students in the Food Innovation Program in Italy to do my master's. I did the interview on Monday, got accepted on Wednesday, received a call from the Italian embassy on Thursday, got my visa on Friday, and by Saturday, I had to pack my bags to go to Italy. Things moved so quickly that I didn't have time to tell the people around me.

By the grace of God, I arrived in Italy. I spent almost a year in an intense master's program in food innovation. We had classes in the morning and evening and had to work on projects. We spent six months in companies, learning a lot. When I returned to my country, I wanted to advance the food sector in my country. Unfortunately, things didn't go as planned.

I had to start my activities but got discouraged quickly and stopped.

I remember one day I was praying to the Lord because I was depressed at that time. It felt like nothing was working. I started asking the Lord what I should do because nothing seemed to be working. While praying, the Lord gave me a Bible verse from Proverbs.

The verse said, "The lazy man buries his hand in the dish, but he will not so much as bring it to his mouth again." I wondered what things I had in my hands that I struggled to bring to fruition. I realized I had already bought the machines to make juices and had many things around me that could help me do what I needed to do. But I kept asking the Lord what I should do because nothing I tried was working.

So, I decided to start again. With a friend, we began anew. Things didn't work out as expected, but I decided to push forward. By the grace of God, I met a partner, and we opened the first juice bar in Kinshasa. This juice bar gained a lot of recognition and allowed us to have many customers and become well-known around the city. That was the success of Surprise Tropical.

But in 2020, COVID-19 arrived. We had to navigate through the pandemic, and by the grace of God, things went well during the COVID period. However, post-COVID, things became very difficult and complicated for us, and we had to close the juice bar. Beyond knowing it was the first juice bar, there was an emotional attachment to the business, and we had to stop everything because things were not working out.

I had to stop the activities in 2022 and stayed at home. While at home, I started thinking about how to write my CV to apply for jobs and work for others. I thought I would rather work for others than stay like that, struggling with entrepreneurship life over and over.

While I was preparing my CVs, I remember an incident. I was out evangelizing with my team, Équipe de Feu, and just as we finished, my phone rang. It was a woman calling to tell me that a company wanted to recruit me. They had seen my CV and wanted me to work for them. She said the company would contact me for an interview. A few minutes later, the company called, and on Monday, I went for the interview. I thought, while I was serving the Lord, He had opened a great door for me.

At the interview, I remembered a prophecy from January 2022 when someone had told me that the Lord would open great doors for me that year. At the time, I didn't believe it because nothing seemed to be working, and I was shutting down my business. Another woman I met on the street told me that I had inspired many in the entrepreneurial field, and if I gave up, many others would fall behind. I realized the responsibility I had beyond just running a business for myself.

After the interview, they asked me to return on Wednesday for the final decision. I met with the owner of the company, and they offered me the job, including the salary. I remembered the prophecy and the woman's words. I thanked them for the opportunity but said I couldn't work full-time and suggested working as a consultant instead. The owner insisted they needed someone full-time. I declined, remembering the Lord's promise and decided to hold on to it.

I continued to struggle, thinking maybe I had missed an opportunity. Then, I traveled to Goma, where another company offered me a position with similar benefits. They liked how I interacted with them and offered me the same salary as the first company. I thought the Lord was giving me another chance. But again, I declined full-time work, suggesting consultancy instead. We started working on a project remotely, but it quickly fell through due to lack of funding.

Back in Kinshasa, I received a call from an important hotel in Congo looking for a natural juice supplier. I had previously been selected for a state-guaranteed loan for businesses and had secured a large order for natural juices. This hotel order was a significant breakthrough. Soon after, another hotel contacted me for even larger juice orders. I had to increase my workforce to meet demand.

During this time, the Lord clarified my calling. I realized my purpose was tied to working fully with Surprise Tropical and Kuvuna Foundation. Then, an unexpected call came from a company in Botswana. They needed a consultant to represent them in Congo. I never found out how they got my number, but I was interviewed and accepted the role, negotiating a salary similar to the previous offers.

Now, I find myself thriving with Surprise Tropical, earning more than ever, even more than when I had the juice bar. Additionally, I have a consulting job with a good salary, and I'm deeply fulfilled working with Kuvuna Foundation, exactly where the Lord wants me to be.

If I had accepted the initial full-time offers, I would have missed out on these three incredible opportunities. My message to everyone reading this testimony is to hold on to the Lord's promises. Short-term realities can be misleading; focusing on them might cause you to miss out on what God has planned for you. My prayer for everyone is that the Lord helps you be patient and determined. When the Lord places a clear vision in your heart, hold on to it; it will certainly come to pass.

God bless you.

MAKE THE DECISION TO FOLLOW CHRIST

Dear reader, You have read the testimonies of ordinary men and women who have seen the hand of God in their lives thanks to the personal encounter they had with the Lord Jesus Christ the only Savior of humanity. Certainly, you know that Jesus Christ was born of Mary in Bethlehem, conceived in spirit and not in flesh, that he wrought signs and wonders among men, that he died and resurrected.

What you probably don't know is that this Jesus has not changed and that he is capable of transforming you and changing your life if you leave it to him to lead this instantly wherever you are. To do this, it is enough to pronounce with faith the following words: Lord Jesus, I have always taken for a historical character, unaware that in you is found the fullness of divinity and transformation capacity. Now that I understand it, I open my heart to you, I accept you as my Lord and my Savior. Forgive all my faults and fill me with your Holy Spirit that I may live a victorious Christian life. Amen Beloved, Congratulations on this prayer you have just prayed. You may not have felt anything while reciting it or after having recited it.

Calm down because you have done your leave and give the Lord Jesus Christ time to work his miracles in you. Only, consider yourself from this moment as a child of God and know that from now on your name is written in the book of life because of this covenant that you came

FGBMFI : THE LARGEST GROUPING OF CHRISTIAN BUSINESSMEN IN THE WORLD

On July 21, 1913, in Downey, Démos Shakarian founder of the FGBMFI, was born into a family Christian. The phenomenal growth of the Reliance dairy farm and other interests sales have made Demos extremely busy. However, God's calling on his life pushed to focus on serving the Lord. Full of enthusiasm to win men to Christ, he organizes evangelistic meetings in tents and in auditoriums. Démos creates the International Community of Businessmen of the Plein Gospel (FGBMFI).

Its first meeting, with Oral Roberts as speaker, was held in a cafeteria in downtown Los Angeles in 1952. At the beginning, participation was extremely low, enough for Démos to discourages and wants to dissolve the community. It was then that, in a desperate prayer, the night before what was to be the last meeting, he had a vision where he was being lifted up in the air and, as the earth rotated, each continent came into view. "I could see people from all over the world, their race, the color of their skin," says Démos. "Since a Zoom camera can show tiny details from a distance, I could see people close to each other, shoulders touching, but without real contact between them. Each face was rigid, miserable, locked in its own death." Démos is upset by the implications: billions of lost souls and the need to present them to Christ. He cries : "Lord, help them! »

Suddenly, God showed him these same people, their faces radiant, their hands raised towards the heaven, praising the Lord. And the words flowed. "My son, what you see before you will come to pass Soon. » In the meantime, Rose, Demos' wife, had entered the room and was playing softly from the organ. She then began to prophesy: "You are in the will of the Lord. Founded in 1952, we are present in more than 85 countries and we come together in thousands of chapters. These friendly meetings of businessmen are moments of communion, awareness and of personal ministry.

The main strategy of FGBMFI is implemented at the local level, but the organization has a global reach. Designed to be a grassroots movement, the structure of our organization deliberately attempts to bring resources to the local level, giving members the ways to make an impact in their local community or city. The FGBMFI is a community of all races, of all languages, of men of high and of low stature. Some of our members are presidents of their countries, others of prime ministers, ambassadors, senators, businessmen, workers, professionals and young people starting out in life. We do not have a single name, we come from all Christian denominations. We believe in God, our Father heavenly, in Jesus Christ, his son and in the precious Holy Spirit.
